Last Call - XYCOM Human Machine interface to Beckhoff Panel

Only remaining inventory of the Beckhoff HMI panel exists for GE controlled machines.

All HMI generations have relied on a main GE control rack to interface with the machine. With pending obsolescence of GE control parts an HMI interfacing with Encore Polaris controls is required.

Upgrade Benefits

In the event of a HMI failure, the unit can be replaced with a Beckhoff CP6401. This new, universal HMI can be used to replace Xycom models.

While inventory exists, customers with only HMI panels should consider obtaining a spare.
